NYMPFIELD LONG BARROW

Quartz Class were very lucky with the weather on Monday for our trip up to Nympsfield Long Barrow. We spent the morning writing poems about the prehistoric site, making drawings from the beacon and completing a nature checklist on our walk.

Back at school, we made cyanotype prints using the natural materials we found. The next time you're on a walk, see if you can spot the plants we used- honesty, old man's beard and bracken.
